HAIR

Jennifer Aniston, 45

About 20 percent of Dr. Leonard's transplant patients are women since female pattern baldness affects one in four women. "Jennifer Aniston has always had the hair and hairdo women admire," he says. "We can do hair transplant on women to give them fullness but we can also offer a low level laser treatment that stops and stabilizes hair loss and stimulates re-growth." The Capillus laser cap costs $3,000 but you can also use over-the-counter Minoxidil to regulate hair loss.

EYES

Jennifer Lawrence, 24

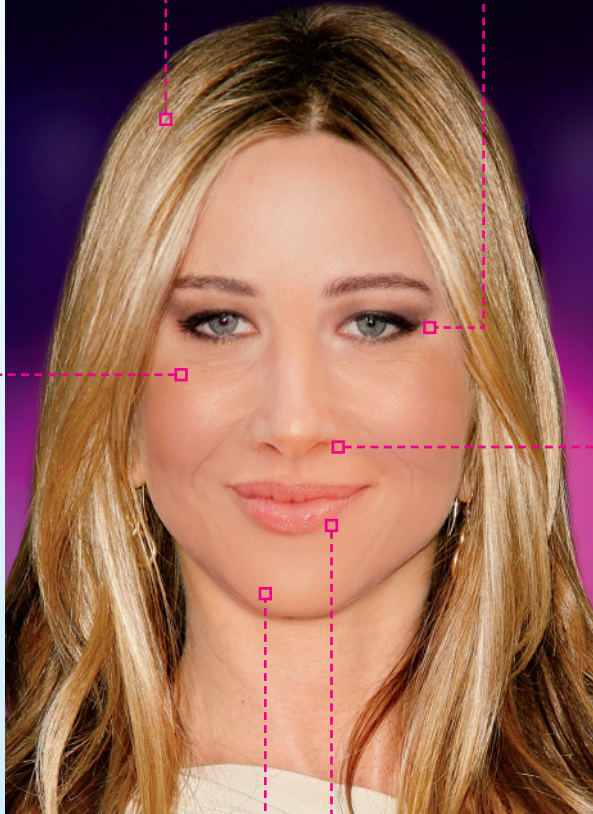

Dr. Bruno says the Oscar winner has beautiful eyes due to a well-defined upper eyelid crease with no overhang or bags under the eyes. This can be achieved with blepharoplasty, or upper and lower eyelifts which range between $3,000 to $5,000.

CHEEKS

January Jones, 36

The "Mad Men" siren "has full and high cheeks that give her a youthful look and not the chipmunk cheeks we see too often in Hollywood," says Dr. Matthew Schulman, a board-certified plastic surgeon from New York. This can be easily accomplished non-surgically by injecting fillers such as Radiesse or Voluma that cost around $1,000 to $2,000. For more permanent results, Schulman suggests getting cheek implants of your choice that cost around $6,000 to $8,000.

NOSE

Natalie Portman, 33

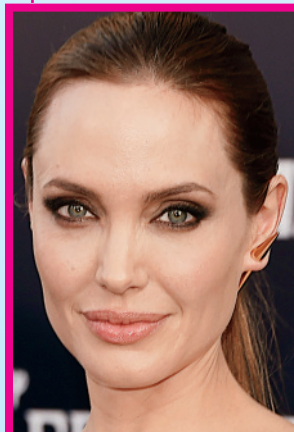

The "Black Swan" star has a "very defined nose," says Schulman. It is narrow and aristocratic, he points out, with a well-defined tip. "Achieving this elegant look requires a rhinoplasty to narrow the nasal bones and refining the cartilage of the tip," he says. The cost is $9,000 to $11,000.

CHIN & JAW

Halle Berry, 48

Halle has incredible facial bone structure, says Schulman. The "Monster's Ball" Academy Award winner's chin and jaw, in particular are strong, yet still remain feminine and serve to balance her entire face. For those who are not blessed with this particular jaw and chin, her look can be achieved with a chin implant that costs $5,000.

LIPS

Angelina Jolie, 39

Sexy "Maleficent" has "aesthetically ideal lips," says Bruno. She has very full upper and lower lips, says the expert, which women want. To re-create the pretty pout you can inject fillers such as Juvederm for about $500-$800 that last for about a year.
