

ONLY $2.99

The queen: Kate is too much like Diana

TORMENTED BY THE QUEEN

Kate Leaves the Palace for Good!

She endures months of bullying about her parenting, overspending and wardrobe malfunctions

KATE VOWS: 'I'LL RAISE MY KIDS IN THE COUNTRY'

JUSTIN PROPOSES TO SELENA MARRY ME!

JAY Z & BEYONCÉ

Last Chance for Their Marriage

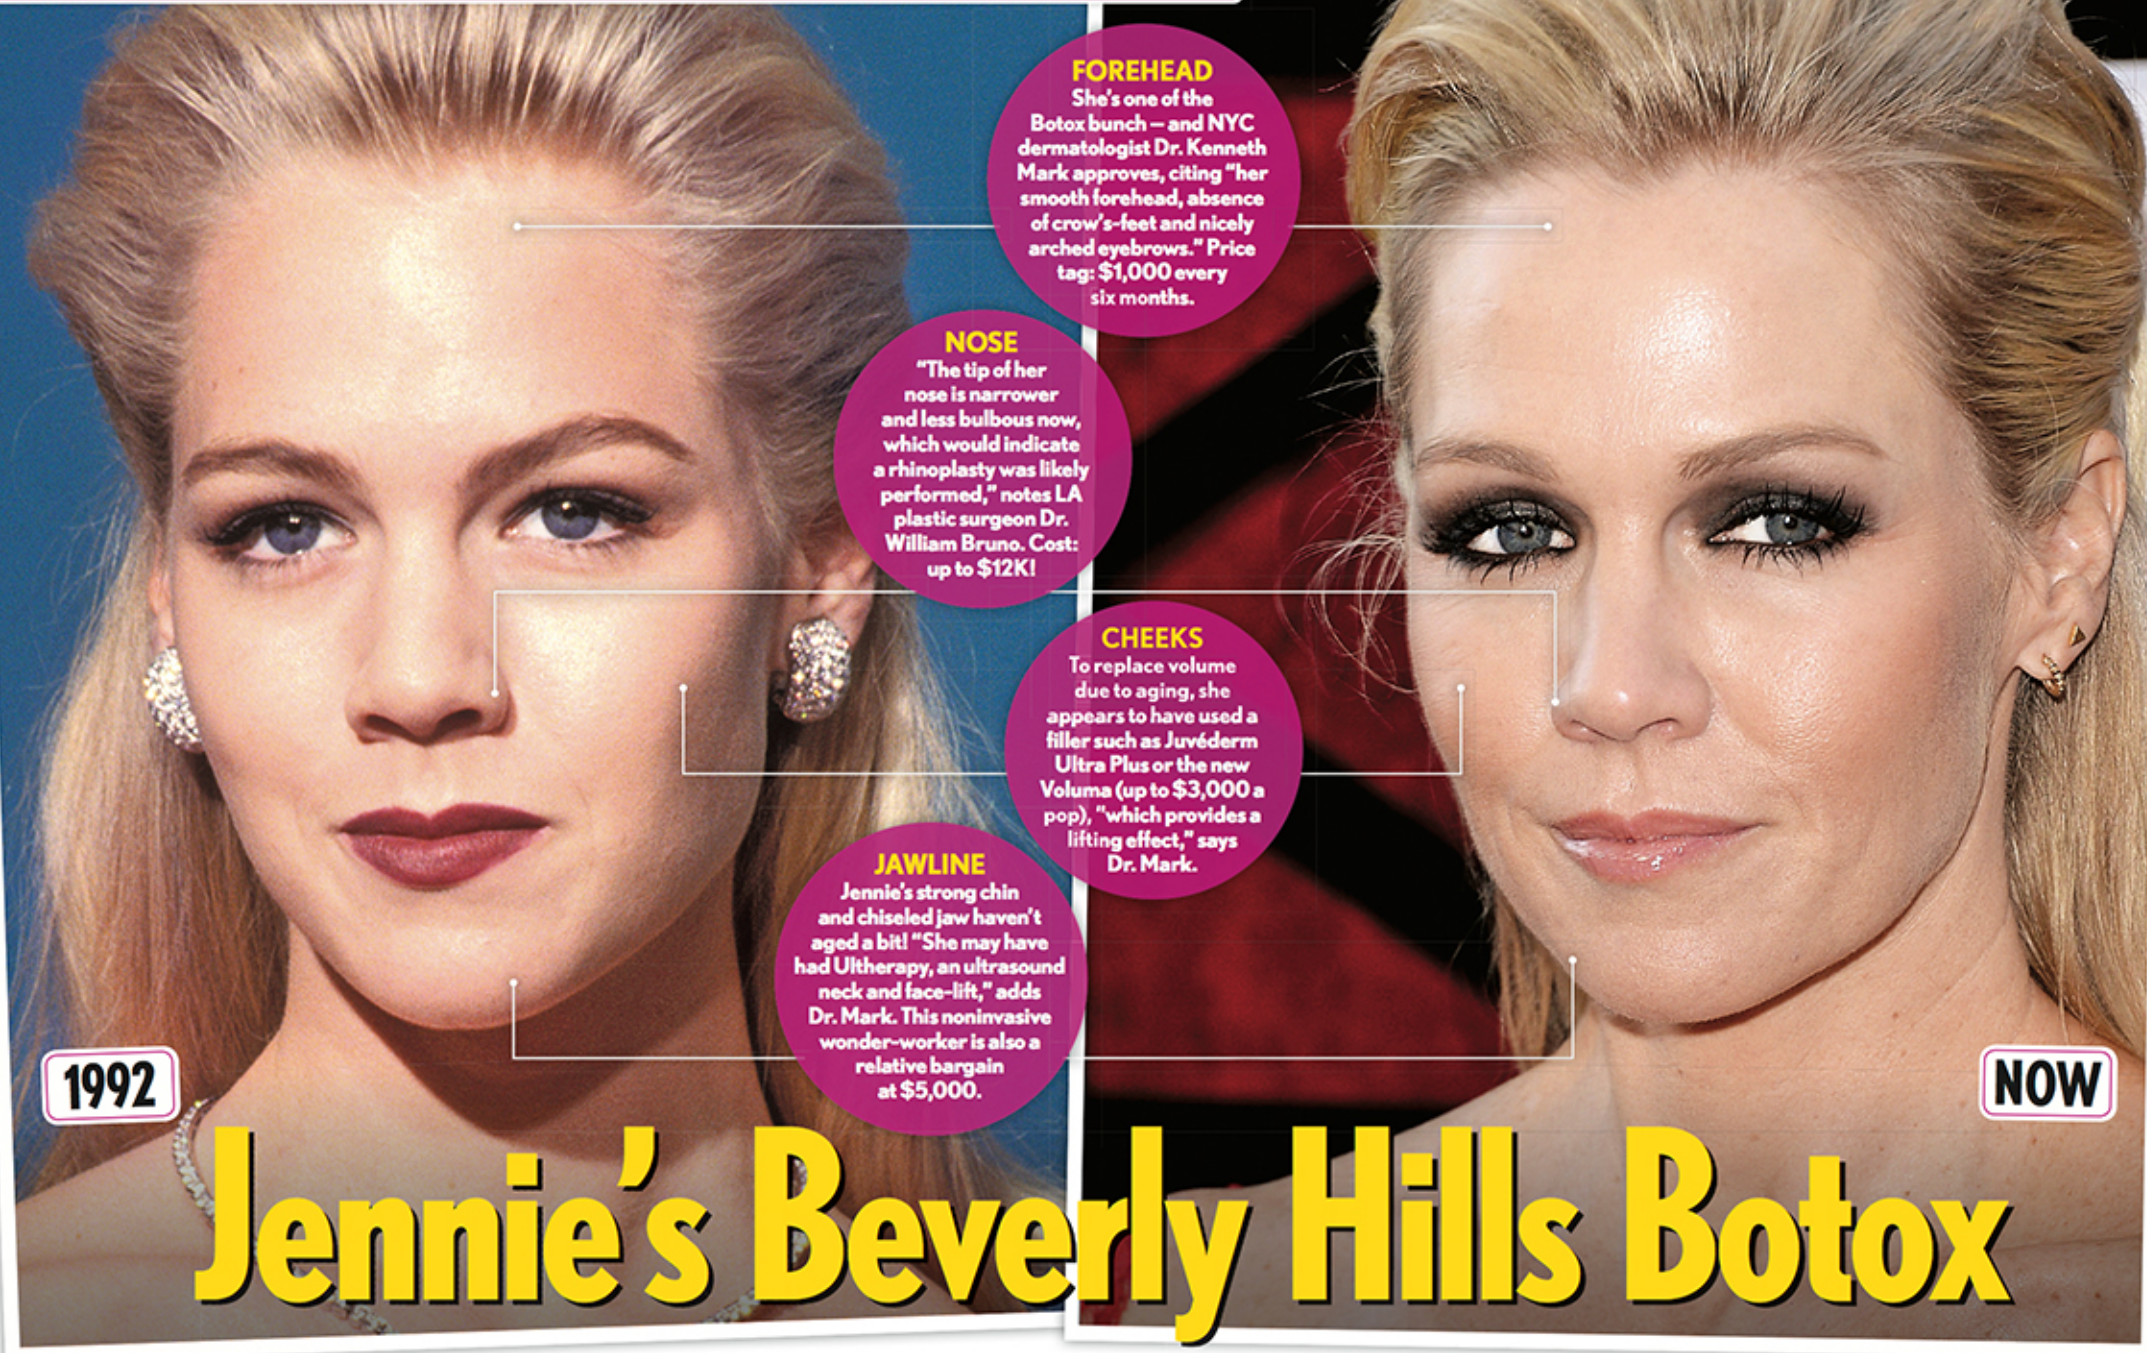

FEUD OVER TV SHOW

Furious Brandi: I'll Sue LeAnn

Rock Your Pedi!
PERFECT SUMMER SANDALS

KNIFESTYLES OF THE RICH & FAMOUS

1992

NOW

Jennie's Beverly Hills Botox

Since her split from husband Peter Facinelli in 2012, mom-of-three Jennie Garth has had quite the breakover! Not only did the blond beauty drop 30 pounds on a gluten-free diet, she's also turning back time with a youthful, wrinkle-free complexion.

The 42-year-old admits to using Botox, but only "in the slightest amount" because she doesn't want her "face to change." The effects are optimal, say experts, who also see evidence of some other discreet tweaks. In addition to Botox in the "frown, forehead and crow's-feet," observes NYC cosmetic dermatologist Dr. Kenneth Mark, who does not treat the star, Jennie "appears to have filler in the mid-cheeks, which is youthful-looking and supplies a slight lift." While some of her features have had the volume pumped up, Jennie's nose appears

FOREHEAD
She's one of the Botox bunch — and NYC dermatologist Dr. Kenneth Mark approves, citing "her smooth forehead, absence of crow's-feet and nicely arched eyebrows." Price tag: $1,000 every six months.

NOSE
"The tip of her nose is narrower and less bulbous now, which would indicate a rhinoplasty was likely performed," notes LA plastic surgeon Dr. William Bruno. Cost: up to $12K!

CHEEKS
To replace volume due to aging, she appears to have used a filler such as Juvéderm Ultra Plus or the new Voluma (up to $3,000 a pop), "which provides a lifting effect," says Dr. Mark.

JAWLINE
Jennie's strong chin and chiseled jaw haven't aged a bit! "She may have had Ultherapy, an ultrasound neck and face-lift," adds Dr. Mark. This noninvasive wonder-worker is also a relative bargain at $5,000.

"narrower and slightly less rounded," says Beverly Hills plastic surgeon Dr. William Bruno, who also does not call the actress a patient but believes she's likely had surgery. Overall — and unlike other Beverly Hills, 90210 alums — the star gets a thumbs-up for tasteful restraint.

"This is a fantastically natural use of filler," raves Dr. Mark. "She is not sunken in, which can occur as we age, yet not overdone or too plumped, either. Smartly, it looks like they left her super-symmetrical and well-shaped lips alone." Nice work, indeed! ES

The Man's View

BEFORE OR AFTER IMPLANT REMOVAL?

Tamra Barney
The Real Housewives of Orange County fitness fanatic has more than exercise to credit for her downsized bust: She got her DD implants (above left) removed! "My breasts were the first thing everybody looked at," she's said of the decision. Now down to an au naturel size 34B, the reality star says getting rid of her oversized cleavage was "the best thing I've ever done." Most guys we polled agreed, saying the fakes were just too over-the-top.

MIRACLE IN A JAR

RADIANT SKIN — STAT!
Talk about spot-on! This Japanese serum combats splotches and brown marks with linoleic acid, a brightening ingredient "which has been shown to inhibit melanin production and reduce inflammation for a more even complexion," says celeb dermatologist Dr. Annie Chiu.

Equitance Brightening Serum and Spot Corrector, $125, equitance-us.com

CLOCKWISE FROM LEFT: GETTY (2); SP/ASH (2); R/R